Asked by family Denials complicate report on Haley pleas

by TOM LACEY AND GLORIA DAVIS

"I did not write a letter asking for leniency for Bill Haley, nor did I authorize anyone to do so," said Bob Lindquist in answer to a copy of a letter that bears his name, written representing the Northern Illinois Conservation Club.

Will Gers, whose name appears on a similar letter, written in the name of the 885 Civic Club issued the same denial.

Thiers were two of several letters found in the court file, received by Florida Judge Richard Burk between the time that a Florida jury found Haley guilty of drug trafficking and the time set for Burk to sentence him.

Mike Duffy, Democratic candidate for state's attorney from Lake County, strongly accused the county Republican party leadership on Oct. 25 of attempting to influence Circuit Court Judge Richard Burk of Palm Beach, Fla., to be lenient in sentencing former Antioch resident and convicted marijuana smuggler Haley.

Duffy made his remarks at a hastily assembled press conference in the lobby of the County Building in Waukegan.

The candidate had returned from a trip made two days beforehand to Palm Beach, Fla. where he obtained from the Palm Beach Sheriff's office copies of letters written to Judge Burk by Robert P. Neal, chairman of the Lake County Republican Central Committee, and other prominent local residents.

The letter from Neal was dated May 22, 1984, four weeks after Haley had been convicted on a charge of conspiring to smuggle 2,000 pounds of marijuana in the state of Florida.

Letters to Judge Burk were also written at about the same time by well-known Antioch people, Raymond J. Scarpelli, president of Raymond Chevrolet-Oldsmobile, Antioch; Gers, president of the 885 Civic Club, Antioch; Dan Dugenske, president of Strang Funeral Home, Inc., Antioch; Lundquist, president of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club, Antioch; John H. Boarini, D.D.S., Antioch and Glenda Tomaschtk, director of the Antioch Parks and Recreation Dept.

Tomaschtk headed her letter with her title as Antioch Parks & Recreation director, a title she used two more times in the letter.

When asked if she wrote the letter as a private citizen or representing her municipal office she said she wrote as a private citizen and did so because she was asked by Haley's wife who is a good friend.

She used her title to lend credence to a letter that told of Haley's activities in the community, pointing out a pontoon trip he took area children on during a fall Chain O'Lakes campout.

"He has always shown compassion and understanding to the people of Antioch and he

Antioch man accidentally shoots Wisconsin man

A Trevor man, Robert Streich, 19, remains in serious condition at Kenosha Memorial Hospital (KMH) after he was wounded in the neck and skull in a hunting accident at 5:12 p.m., on Oct. 23.

Tracey A. Mielke, 19, Antioch was walking a path in the undergrowth in Yaws Subdivision in Camp Lake when he slipped and the .22 caliber rifle he was carrying discharged.

Mielke told sheriff's deputies that he heard and saw a dog about 30 yards away and when he approached the dog he found Streich, garbed in camouflage clothing, lying there with blood coming from his neck.

Mielke ran to the nearby home of Royce Kennedy with whom he worked and called the Salem Rescue Squad which took Streich to Westosha Emergency Center. He was stabilized and taken to KMH.

Ormsen said the investigation of the incident will continue. His department is waiting to talk to Streich. As of press time the sheriff's department has the incident listed as an accidental shooting.

When I think about it Female friendships can be the outstanding ones

by GLORIA DAVIS

This column is mainly for, and about, and a tribute to, women's relationships with other women. So guys turn that football game on TV a little louder and tune us gals out like you so often do anyway.

Now let me clarify the above statement. I'm talking straight relationships here for those of you that have already started to rub your eyebrows.

I guess that it's the difference in the female and male personalities that is the base of the fact that most women can be closer to, and more understanding of, each other than most men can.

Women are capable of having warm and caring relationships with many other women, while few men have more than one close friend, if they have that.

By a close relationship, I mean a person whom you know you can call on in time of need, but who also will be available just to listen to your troubles if they need to be spoken.

Now I know that many men have one buddy or more that they can count on this way. Here is where we separate the gals from the guys. Women will allow close friends to see their weak as well as their strong side.

Most men feel that it is unmanly to display weakness in front of another male and heaven forbid that they should shed a tear or two in front of even their closest pal. I think that men are more apt to cry in front of a woman even when they are understandably griefstricken.

The men that I know have a lot of acquaintances that they can talk sports, politics or business with, but few whom they would discuss their innermost feelings with.

It is my experience that many men are more apt to do this with a woman than with one of their male friends.

Women are capable of getting to really know each other while I feel that men, even the closest of war buddies etc., usually get to know only the face that they carefully present to each other.

If you are female and past 30, more likely than not it has been one or more gals that have gotten you through some of the worst times of your life.

Women seem to be capable of really enjoying each other, faults or no faults, while men seem to enjoy each other's input.

Now these close female friends can include relatives that range from your mother to your daughter.

Personally, I think that women who have these kinds of close friends are lucky. It may be one of the reasons that overall women outlive men.

When one can have other comforting shoulders to help carry the weight of life's problems, the day to day stress of living fairly leaps from the nervous system.

I think that most men keep theirs caged inside because the homage men seem to pay to strength ranks high in their list of musts.

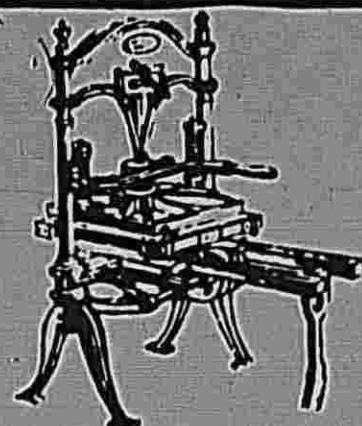

I have found that mature women can honestly enjoy each other where men enjoy enjoying events with each other.

Now I know that there are some married couples who fill this need for each other without the necessity for outside influence from either sex. They are the lucky ones!

Now don't get me wrong, I'm still a strong advocate of "Viva la difference!" (Said with a French accent of course.)

But as friends go, stop and think, how many deep and honest friendly relationships between men and women, or men and men, do you know about?

I know that I'm not the only mature (preferred to older) woman I know that can truly say she has a few women friends who have helped her over many of the rough spots, sometimes with a shoulder to cry on, but more often than not, with just the comfort of having a good laugh together either at each other, at themselves or over the jokers in the deck of cards that life deals us.

Letter To The Editor

TEACHERS IN FAVOR

The Grass Lake Teachers Assn. wishes to state that it is in favor of the proposed merger between Grass Lake School and Lotus School.

If the consolidation becomes a reality, Lotus School will house lower grade students while Grass Lake School will house upper grade students—creating a more ideal learning environment as indicated in the statements listed below.

In addition, multiple sections of each grade would result from this merger making greater diversity in the placement of children.

Lastly, the obvious aspect of generating increased revenue would allow substantial educational benefits.

We offer the following reasons for consolidation:

1. Better class sizes will be achieved. As an example, Grass Lake's second grade class has 31 students; Lotus' second grade has 13 students. The merger would create two sections of 22 each.

2. More money per pupil than what Grass Lake receives has—will be available for education.

3. Conflicts can be minimized in scheduling the use of commonly used facilities such as the gym, media center, etc. For example, practice for primary programs in the gym would not interfere as it presently does with upper grade physical education classes and vice versa.

4. The media center can be geared to specific grade levels in each building. (K-3 at Lotus; 4-8 at Grass Lake).

5. Two sections each in grades K-5 will provide the opportunity for better ability groupings in reading, math, etc. Also with double sectioning of each grade level, brothers and/or sisters who happen to be in the same grade will not have to be in the same class together.

6. Fewer playground conflicts can be realized due to separating younger children from older children in two buildings.

7. Assembly programs can be brought in that are suited for younger or older audiences. This will make for more effective and meaningful programs.

8. Christmas, spring, and fine arts programs can be geared to specific age levels and abilities.

9. Activities such as band, chorus, and sports in which a large participation is desirable would be enhanced by additional students.

We support the merger because we believe that it will best serve the educational needs of our students.

Stephen R. Bartlett,
President
Grass Lake Teachers Assn.

Lambs plans bazaar

Santa Clause will host The Lambs' annual Christmas Gift Bazaar at Lambs Farm in Libertyville from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 10 and 11.

More than 50 artists and craftsmen will be selling hand-crafted items, ranging from stained glass and ceramics to woodworking and quilted items as a variety of prices. Proceeds from the sale will directly benefit The Lambs, a private, not-for-profit program for mentally retarded adults.

The Lambs is located at the junction of the I-94 and Rte. 176, two miles east of Libertyville. Parking and admission to the show are free.

The bazaar showrooms will be richly decorated with Christmas ideas, and Santa's elves will be there to assist shoppers. To make the festive mood complete, children will be able to visit with Santa.

Christmas gift ideas will also abound at The Lambs' Bakery, pet shop, and country store, where a wide variety of delicious and attractive homemade items are available.

Handscreened Christmas cards by the men and women in The Lambs program are for sale at the Persimmon Tree Card and Gift Shop.

All the shops and The Lambs Country Inn restaurant will be open both days of the Christmas Gift Bazaar. These businesses serve as vocational training centers for the adults in The Lambs program. For more information about the Christmas Gift Bazaar, call Lambs' events hotline at (312) 362-6774.

will be missed," is a quote from the closing of her letter.

"I wouldn't write that letter over again if I were asked and I think he deserved the sentence he got," said Tomaschik when questioned about the writing of the letter.

Scarpelli said he too had written the letter because he was asked by a family member.

"At the time I honestly didn't think he was guilty but I do now since the federal indictments," said Scarpelli.

Former Lake County Board member and Antioch Township assessor, "Bud" Holtz never mentioned his political offices in his short note which he said he wrote because of his "feelings for the Haley family." He refused to make further comment. His letter did not ask for leniency.

Dr. Boarini's letter, written at the behest of a member of the Haley family, did not ask for leniency but outlined his experiences with the entire Haley family over the years he had known them.

Dugenske refused to comment on a letter that closed with, "I have known Bill on a social basis and have found him to be of temperate habits. I would not have any reservations on accepting Bill Haley back in this community to continue his activities in his church and business."

Duffy seems willing enough to go after the Lake County Republicans and Antioch residents but when asked about a letter from the nuns at St. Peters Church to which Haley belongs, which he reportedly did not include in his revelation, he reportedly said that he didn't include the letter because he "didn't want to tangle with the Catholic Church."

He could not be reached at press time to comment on this report.

Sister Mary, principal at St. Peters School said that she wrote a letter to Judge Burk that simply verified that the Haley family were parish members. She said that she would write this type of letter verifying parish membership for any member if asked.

It was Duffy's contention that Neal and the other letter writers were all trying to use their position in the community to influence the decision of the judge in Haley's case. He called such influence-peddling, "inappropriate."

When asked whether he was accusing Neal and the others of complicity in Haley's activities, Duffy said, "Of course not."

Duffy said that Judge Burk had disregarded the letters from Neal and others and sentenced Haley to 10 years and a $25,000 fine.

Duffy went on to criticize his opponent in the race for county state's attorney, Fred Foreman, of being lax in the performance of his duties by neglecting to follow what he called a trail of money and influence to Lake County.

"There are strong ties to Lake County" evident in Haley's activities in Florida, Duffy said.

"This sort of operation needs huge amounts of money to succeed," he said. "The evidence indicates there are a tremendous amount of Lake County connections here."

On April 3, 1981, Woodrow Wilson was arrested by Palm Beach County Sheriff's police as he exited the cockpit of Cessna 404, No. N5429G, owned by William Zeigler of Round Lake from which 22 bales of marijuana were recovered.

On June 8, 1981 Wilson identified Haley as the man who assisted in the preparation of a flight plan to and from Colombia where the marijuana would be obtained.

These discussions and others between Wilson and Haley about landing strategy in Florida took place at 2525 Barcelona Dr., Ft. Lauderdale, a residence occupied by Haley, according to police reports.

Reading from a prepared statement, Duffy said that, in addition, one of the passengers on the flight to and from Colombia was Robert Hoffman, a former Republican precinct committeeman in Lake Villa Township.

"The connections to Lake County in all of this are painfully obvious," Duffy said. He questioned why, in the three years since Haley's arrest, the state's attorney has not done "something about this major drug connection into Lake County."

Foreman's explanation that the federal government is handling the case is not good enough, Duffy says.

Last summer several drug trafficking indictments against Haley and his brother Clem Haley came out of U. S. Atty. Dan Webb's office.

A hearing on these is due in November in front of a federal magistrate.

"The state's attorney must take the lead in pursuing this evil in our community," he said.

Carmel to hold an open house

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Well I just finished making my annual donation to the United Way Fund. I always feel better after I do that because it's such a worthwhile cause.

If you haven't made your contribution yet just call the Antioch United Way Chairman Paul Pavelski at (312) 395-8500 and tell him "Annie Mae sent me."

Antioch kids never stop making their village proud as they continue to accomplish and accomplish!

Big congrats to the Antioch high School Marching Band for taking two first place awards recently, at the Warhawk Tournament at the University of Wisconsin, Whitewater and the Franklin Park Fall Festival where they took first place honors against nine other bands.

Speaking of the list of students to be proud of we have to include Stan Kuligowski, a junior at St. John's Prep, in Collegeville, Minn., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kuligowski. He was named the KMOM radio "Player of the Game," for his performance against the Big Lake Hornets on Oct. 12. He is also rated the number two quarterback out of 15 area schools.

And how about that Debra Lynn Jones who was admitted to Iowa State University with "Recognition and Award" for high academic achievement. And then we have Kirk Ira Moran who received his master's degree in science and orthodontics after the summer session at the University of Nebraska.

I have also heard that Alan Ware, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Ware has pledged the TKE social fraternity at Northeast Missouri State University in Kirksville, Mo..

Antioch also has plenty of service men to brag about like Army Pvt. Larry Andrews, son of Sgt. Kenneth L. and Carole Andrews, who has completed a tracked vehicle mechanic course at the U. S. Army Armor school in Fort Knox, Ky..

Rita Strecher's brother, Alan, a master sergeant and his wife Staff Sgt. Katherine Elliott have arrived for duty at Minot Air Base, N. D. He is assistant supervisor of procedures and standardization and she is supervisor of allowance and authorization.

Cadet John R. Woolner, son of Patricia Woolner of Antioch and retired Air Force tech. Sgt. John Woolner, Highland, has completed a U.S. Air Force ROTC field training encampment at Dover Air Base, Del.. He is a student at Parks College, Cahokia, Ill..

Don't forget Army National Guard Pvt. Rebecca West, daughter of Judith and Donald West. She has just completed basic training at Fort Dix, N. J..

Ask Dr. Sven

by Robert T. Sven B.S.D.D.S.

Sealants

Q. How do sealants work to prevent tooth decay?

A. Sealants are made of a clear tinted plastic material. Applied to the biting and chewing surfaces of teeth, they act as a shield against plaque, the destructive bacteria that cause decay. Application takes just a few moments per tooth, and should be done immediately after teeth are thoroughly cleaned by a professional.

Since sealants cover and adhere to the pits and fissures or surface irregularities of teeth, but not the smooth surfaces, it's wise to treat the latter with fluorides.

Sheriff gives Halloween tips

Soon the streets will be scattered with little ghosts, goblins and witches trick or treating this Halloween. To make sure this is a more enjoyable and safer Halloween, Lake County Sheriff Robert H. Babcox offers the following safety tips:

Young children should always be accompanied by an adult. Either a parent or older child should stay within close range at all times and never let the children go down a street by themselves. Walk with the children to each house and wait in the driveway or by the door until the children return.

All trick or treaters should wear some type of reflective clothing or carry a bright orange bag with them to make it easier for passing vehicles to see them.

All children should travel in pairs or groups at all times and never venture down a dark empty side street. Always walk together to the front door of each house and never run across the street or yard.

Tell children to save all their "goodies" until they get home. Inspect all candy. Throw away all unwrapped candy or suspicious looking goodies. Report all foreign objects found in candy to the sheriff's department immediately.

Sequoits Look To Stop Niles Running Game

by MIKE PRAMSHAFFER

The Antioch Sequoits will attempt to control the Niles North running game and to balance their own offense attack when the two teams meet Saturday, Nov. 3 at Niles North.

The Sequoits are now 5-3 in conference play, with a good chance of placing third in the conference with a win over the Vikings.

"It's going to be a very physical game. They (Niles) are a hard hitting team, and we're expecting a very bruising game," Steve Wapon, Antioch Head Coach said.

Niles presently holds a 3-5 conference record, but is coming on strong as of late, Wapon said.

"They have played better as the season has progressed. We are looking for a tough ballgame," he said.

The Sequoits must be able to balance their offensive attack against Niles in order to be successful this weekend, as they only threw three passes against Stevenson last weekend in a 7-0 victory.

"We have to get more out of our air game against Niles than we did against Stevenson," Wapon said.

One of the reasons why the Sequoits only attempted three passes against the Patriots was because of the high blowing winds, according to Wapon.

"If we continue building on our aggressiveness, I think we have a good chance of coming away with a victory against Niles," he added.

The Sequoits should be on an emotional high after their 7-0 victory over Stevenson, which was ranked 10th in the state in class 5A.

"The Stevenson victory was very important for us. It not only snapped our three game losing streak, but it gave our kids a big emotional lift," Wapon said.

Antioch scored their only touchdown in the first quarter on a four yard-run by running back John Riedlinger.

That was all the Sequoits needed, as their defense did the job of holding the Patriots scoreless for four quarters.

"The entire scoring drive was predominately the running of Riedlinger. He was very instrumental in getting those points on the board," Wapon said.

Riedlinger led the Sequoits in rushing with 93 yards, while Chris Buxton led the team in receiving with two receptions.

Wapon said the Sequoits' ability to take away the inside running game of Stevenson was the defensive key to their victory.

Defensive tackles Don Chisholm and Dave Hendricks, along with linebackers Larry Rodgers and Dave Lear were noted by Wapon as playing an outstanding ballgame.

Cornerback Ray Rugebregt and Safety John Grier each had an interception, which was also instrumental in the Sequoits' victory, Wapon said.

"We won the ballgame the old fashion way, with blocking and tackling."

Why electric heat pump owners have second thoughts when the weather gets cold.

For people who bought electric heat pumps, cold weather can be bad news indeed.

Because heat pumps lose capacity as the outside temperature drops. At some point, usually right around freezing, they need help from a backup heating system. Usually, it's electric resistance heating, so you end up heating your home with one of the costliest heating systems just when the weather gets really cold.

In contrast, gas furnaces and boilers have no trouble coping efficiently with severe winters. Whatever the outside temperature, the new high efficiency models can continue to squeeze up to 95% of the available heat out of every cubic foot of gas. So you're getting maximum efficiency to minimize heating costs in bitter cold weather.

Another argument for a gas furnace or boiler is the cost of natural gas itself. Today, it's the least expensive fuel available in this area, and current forecasts indicate it will continue to maintain a strong competitive advantage for years to come.

If you're thinking about adding to or replacing your home heating system, we strongly suggest you go with natural gas.

It's the only way to be sure you won't be having second thoughts when winter comes to Illinois.
